PARNELL COMMISSION

Resumes Its Sessions To-Day—Davitt Turns His Eloquence Loose.

Rousing Reception to the Prince and Princess of Wales at Athens.

By Postal Telegraph.]

Athens, Oct. 24.—The royal yacht Osborne, bearing the Prince and Princess of Wales, Albert Edward, Prince George and the Princesses Maud and Victoria was met off the island of Serdra by the British and Greek fleets this morning and escorted into the harbor amid salutes from all the warships. Upon the arrival of the royal yacht in port, the King and Queen of Greece, and Duke of Sparta accompanied by Lady Manson and attaches of the British legation went on board and gave the visitors the warmest kind of a welcome. The entire party then drove to the palace, being enthusiastically greeted all along the route by the people.

ENTHUSIASTIC LIBERALS.

London, Oct. 24.—The meeting of the Liberal electors of Southport this afternoon, who gathered to listen to the great speech of Mr. Gladstone, proved the most enthusiastic and most successful political event held in England for a long time. Gladstone was at his best, and for an hour and ten minutes he spoke to his auditors with his old-time vim and eloquence.

THE TURF.

London, Oct. 24.—The Cambridgeshire race was won by Laureate; Clarabelle second, Cheophilus third.

WHEAT MARKET.

Liverpool, Oct. 24.—Demand is fair for wheat. Prices are a shade higher. California 7 shillings.

A KING ABDICATES.

London, Oct. 24.—It is reported that the King of the Netherlands abdicates the title of Luxemburg in favor of the Duke of Nassau.

ANOTHER ALLY.

London, Oct. 24.—Theophilus Shepstone, adviser of the late King Abandesi, of Swazilano, who drank himself into the grave, has been elected ruler of Swazis by a full council of nations. Swazilano lies between the Transvaal and Zululand. It gave assistance to the British in the war against the Zulus and is coveted by the Boers, but can now be considered safe in British hands.

THRASHED TWO CONSTABLES.

London, Oct. 24.—Complaint is made by prominent Englishmen travelling in Ireland for business or pleasure, that they are constantly dogged by the police. A well-known gentleman of London, a prominent Liberal and a friend of Mr. Gladstone, became so exasperated the other day by treatment of this sort while travelling in Donegal, that with the assistance of his groom he soundly thrashed two constables who were following him. No efforts were made to arrest the assailants.

CHINA'S RAILWAY SYSTEM.

Shanghai, Oct. 23.—It is reported here that the sudden and unexpected collapse of the elaborate railway system projected by the Chinese is due entirely to the attitude of the French government. The French insist upon a rigid compliance on the part of China with the terms of certain articles in an old treaty by virtue of which the French were entitled to supply not only the material, but the personnel of the management of any railroad thereafter to be built within the limits of the Chinese Empire.

DAVITT'S ELOQUENCE.

He To-Day Addresses the Special Commission.

London, Oct. 24.—The special commission to inquire into the charges made by the Times against Parnell and other members of the Irish national party in parliament resumed its session to-day. The proceedings were confined to summing up by counsel for the various persons interested. Joseph G. Biggar addressed the commission and was followed by Michael Davitt.

Davitt read his speech from a manuscript. In addressing the commission he said he was running directly contrary to popular opinion in Ireland, which had unqualifiedly endorsed the action of his colleagues in withdrawing from the case before the commission, but he was impelled to defend the character of the Irish peasantry, which had been wantonly and gratuitously assaulted. Although he was no longer a Fenian, he said he would become one again if the conditions in Ireland were similar to those of twenty-five years ago. The aim of the Fenians however, has been partly fulfilled, and the Land League, which was based upon the same patriotic spirit that had actuated the Fenian organization, was fast securing justice to Ireland. Unable to resist the steady march of progress, Dublin castle would soon quietly submit to the fate of the Irish church. Davitt reviewed the testimony of Patrick Delaney, who is serving a life sentence in Maryborough prison for complicity in the Phœnix Park murders, and who six years ago or more, swore away the life of his own brother. Delaney, he said, had committed a deliberate perjury, such as he had done in previous cases, and had attempted to obtain his freedom as a reward for his service to the Times. No agent, Davitt declared, had done more to keep alive the national antipathy of the American-Irish to Great Britain than the Times, whose brutal language extended back to comments of the paper on extermination of the Irish peasantry following the great famine.

A BANK ROBBER

Shoots the Manager and Being Caught Kills Himself.

London, Oct. 24.—About noon to-day an unknown man entered the bank at Sidsbury, six miles from Mansfield, ostensibly for the purpose of opening an account. Suddenly he drew a revolver on Mr. Allen, manager of the bank, and fired. He also fired a second shot at the clerk, but missed him. In the confusion the man grabbed a package containing £80 and fled, taking a straight course across the fields. He was pursued and overtaken, but before being seized he turned the revolver upon himself and shot himself dead. It is possible Manager Allen may recover, but his condition is serious.

SLAVES SOLD FROM THE BLOCK

English Merchants Revive the Nefarious Traffic in Zanzibar.

London, Oct. 23.—Letters from Zanzibar, received at the office of the anti-slavery society here, report that the buying and selling of human chattels in the streets of that city was being carried on with scarcely an attempt at concealment. Weekly markets are held at which slaves are boldly exposed to the gaze of intending buyers, and, in many cases, each slave carries a placard suspended from his neck, upon which is written the price at which he can be bought. Women are not usually ticketed in this city, but are sold for what they will bring, the ordinary price being £6 to £12 each, if young. Merchants who carry on the traffic are all Arabs, but it appears to be well understood in Zanzibar that rich firms of English traders furnish all the capital to conduct the business.

All local officials in Zanzibar are said to be in the pay of this firm, who purchase immunity by bribing authorities of the highest and lowest order, and so complete is their influence that complaint receives little attention. To illustrate the openness with which the trade is carried on, it is pointed out that receipts of slaves every week are publicly announced by placards upon the walls of houses. The letters complain that representatives in Zanzibar of the different European governments appear to take no interest whatever in the matter.

Too Wicked to Live With.

A well-known seafaring man, who was employed as mate on one of the coasting steamers, threw up his position a short time ago and left the province. His reason for doing so could not be surmised by many of those who were most intimate with him. He possessed a good certificate as master mariner, was a good seaman and possessed the confidence of his employers. It appeared strange that in the middle of his prosperity and good prospects before him that he should leave everything and go off to seek his fortune elsewhere. Since he has gone, it has transpired that his domestic affairs were not the most happy in the world. He was a rough mannered man and not always the most particular as to the kind of language he used. His wife was of a mild disposition and religiously inclined. One night, after he had gone home, it is said she addressed him saying, "I believe you are too wicked a man to live with." The remark, which appeared at the time to have been idly made, was full of realization the next night when the mariner returned home and found that his wife had left for parts unknown.

Apprehension for the Safety of the Whaling Fleet—Chinese Going Home.

Wannamaker's Employees Steal His Goods—Four Storey Tenement Burned.

By Postal Telegraph.]

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Judge McConnell's court room was crowded this morning long before the time set for opening the trial of the men charged with the murder of Dr. Cronin. At ten o'clock the jury took their seats and the prisoners were led in. They looked curiously around. Judge Longnecker, in opening his address, reminded the jury of the trying ordeal through which each of the prisoners had passed. The State's Attorney then reminded the jury that they had sworn to try the case on law and evidence, uninfluenced by any opinions or public clamor. Judge Longnecker then proceeded to state he could prove Cronin was killed by these men.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

New York, Oct. 23.—The annual convention of the state league of Democratic clubs met to-day. Governor Hill made a brief address. He said the Democratic party stood just where it did a year ago. It had pledged itself for tariff reform, and it reiterated that pledge. The party did not advocate free trade, and that was an accurate statement of the platform. The longer the present administration was in power the more it would be shown what a wise administration was that of Grover Cleveland. Within the last ten days the Republicans had tried to steal the Democratic vote of Montana. The Republican party had violated every pledge which it had made, and the cabinet places had been sold to the highest bidder.

BASEBALL.

Boston, Oct. 24—Kilfridge, catcher of the Quincy baseball club, has signed with Chicago.

DELEGATES SIGHTSEEING.

Milwaukee, Oct. 24.—A special train with delegates to the congress of American nations arrived at the depot about 10:30 this morning. A committee of citizens met the train and welcomed the delegates. Art galleries, water works, and a number of factories were then visited.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

Waterville, Maine, Oct. 24.—The gas house of the Lockwood cotton mill exploded at 7 o'clock this morning, throwing out the front and lifting the roof from the building, which took fire. Ely. L. Washburn, aged 30, a workman in charge, perished in the flames. Several persons passing by narrowly escaped. The cause of the explosion is unknown. Loss is $4000. Deceased leaves a child.

TOTAL WRECK.

San Francisco, Oct. 24.—A dispatch to the Merchants' Exchange from Point Arena, says that the schooner Sarah Alexander, loading lumber for San Francisco, went ashore there Monday afternoon and is a total wreck. The crew were saved.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Oakland, Cala., Oct. 24.—A singular accident, which resulted fatally, occurred at Temscal last night. Edward C. Fitzpatrick, employed in the San Francisco Co.'s mint, was going home on a street car, when a runaway team dashed by. Fitzpatrick recognized his son's voice calling for help, and he jumped off the car. A milk wagon came along, and in the darkness was driven against Fitzpatrick, the pole striking him in the stomach. He died this morning.

RICH PLACERS DISCOVERED.

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 24.—Rich placers are said to have been discovered at San Pedro Martier. Miners are reported as coming to the town of Aimo from the placers to trade nuggets for provisions and then hurrying back. Several hundred prospectors are said to have already gone to the placers.

TWO BRAKEMEN KILLED.

Helena, Montana, Oct. 24.—Two men have been killed on the Northern Pacific within the last 24 hours, both brakemen and both from the same cause. The first accident happened near Helena yard, Wm. Moon falling on his head from a moving train and dying instantly. The second victim was "Doc Dupins, who was breaking on a train near Gallatin, when the chain broke and he fell, dying in a few minutes.

JOHN GOES TO CHINA.

New York, Oct. 24.—Two hundred Chinamen, have left New York via Vancouver bound for China. Many are going home to join the national army and others are going to work on the new railroad in China.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

New York, Oct. 24.—Chas. McElvaine, the burglar, who recently stabbed groceryman Lucas to death in the latter's residence, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree.

ROBBING WANNAMAKER.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 24.—The arrest of Andrew Grahams on Monday, for robbing Postmaster-General Wanamaker's store of $1000 worth of goods while employed there, has been followed by the arrest of Geo. Ingram, another employee. Detectives are looking for others supposed to be implicated in a systematic scheme to rob the store of large amounts of valuable goods.

LOVE'S WOES.

New York, Oct. 24.—George W. Lederer, the theatrical manager, who eloped with and married Lawyer Newcomb's daughter a few days ago, was arrested to-day, and admitted to bail in $2500.

DISAGREED.

New York, Oct. 24.—The jury in the case of Assemblyman Chas. Smith, charged with bribery at the last election, reported they could not agree on a verdict, and were discharged.

A BROOKLYN BLAZE.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 24.—A four-story brick tenement building, 99 and 101 North Third street, was burned, together with its stock, this afternoon. The building was occupied by Dryelen & Palmer and Hines, Ketchum & Co., who employ about 200 hands, mostly girls. Much excitement existed for some time, but all escaped without injury. Loss, $50,000; insured.

THE OAR.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 23.—James A. Ten Eyck, the oarsman, of this city, has made a match with Harry Vail, of Toronto, to row a three mile single scull race on the Schuylkill course at Philadelphia on November 2nd for $500 a side.

WORLD'S FAIR.

Washington, Oct. 23.—A meeting of the national board of promotion of an exposition to be held in Washington in 1892, occurred here this afternoon. A large number of delegates representing twenty states are in attendance. They were received by the President to-day.

THE WHALING FLEET.

New Bedford, Oct. 24.—A dispatch in the morning papers here state that fears are felt in official circles at Washington for the safety of the Arctic whaling fleet, owing to a communication from Captain Healy of the Revenue steamer Bear, which left Point Barrow, August 16th, just as the ice was closing in at that place. These fears were dispelled, however, by the receipt of advices which state that the Thetis, now at Ounalaska, and which was as far east as Mackenzie river on August 20th, four days later than when the Bear left, got through all right by Point Barrow. The whaling schooners Cricket and Thresher were to the eastward of Mackenzie river on September 10th and will probably winter there.

TWO STEAMERS WITHDRAWN.

Competition in the Trans-Pacific Service Has Its Effect.

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—Geo. H. Rice, traffic manager of the Occidental & Oriental, and the Pacific Mail steamship companies, said to-day that the new schedule of the Occidental & Oriental company will go into effect on the 29th inst., and that thereafter six steamers, three belonging to each company, would perform the service between this port and China now performed by eight.

"The Arabic," said Manager Rice, "will go back to England, as there is no more use for her. The City of New York and the City of Sydney will be placed on the Panama line, which will increase that service from two to three steamers a month."

Mr. Rice said the withdrawal of two steamers from the China service was owing partly to the putting into effect of the exclusion act, which reduced the amount of Chinese travel, and partly the competition of the Canadian Pacific Company.

The new steamship China, which is to take the place of one of the three vessels withdrawn, will arrive here about the 26th inst., from Glasgow. She is 5000 tons burthen and one of the largest and fastest vessels plying between this port and China.

GRAND OPENING.

The theatrical company who was to have opened the new Nanaimo opera house did not connect, and it was accordingly opened last night with a ball held by the Tailors' Protective Association.

NANAIMO ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

At a committee meeting of the above held Tuesday evening, correspondence from the football clubs of Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Comox was considered. The letter from the secretary of the Vancouver club contained an invitation to play them on their own ground next Saturday, but owing to the impossibility of chartering a steamer for that day, the match will have to be postponed unless they can see their way to come over here. A team was chosen to represent Nanaimo, and failing in a game with the Vancouverites, they will be prepared to play against the rest of the members on the field next Saturday.

THE CAMERON-M'LEOD MATCH.

Although some time will elapse before the much talked of Cameron and McLeod wrestling match will come off, still bets are being laid daily on the result. Just now McLeod is rather the favorite in the market, and knowing ones say the "big little man" will down the giant. Cameron is not training very hard as the stiffness in his shoulder still continues, but he will endeavor to give a good account of himself. He must be careful, however, and not trust too much to his hitherto brilliant record. The past season has been a bad one for champions.

A POET'S OPINION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—Douglas Sladen, the Australian poet, has a letter in the Vancouver World in which he points out that it will be necessary for the Ontario machinery builders to move their factories to Vancouver in order to compete with the American machinery builders for the Australian market. Douglas Sladen may be a poet, but he is evidently in the fog concerning the wants of Australia. That continent requires Pacific coast timber, but it needs no foreign made machinery, there being iron works in Sydney large enough to turn out any class of heavy machines. If a machinery works is started at Vancouver to be dependent on the Australian trade the enterprise will not be much of a success.

AUSTRALIA.

A FEW LOADS OF GRAVEL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—"They are gravelling the road," is what is passing from mouth to mouth in North Saanich. It is news, and a Godsend to the people of the country to have something fresh to relate. After the recent showers the road to the mill was a mire; the picture it presented was not very cheering and must have caused the parties in power some misgivings in regard to the future. The appropriations on the estimates are apportioned and specially divided: $7,500 for Victoria district, $2000 for the trunk road, $500 for Paley's, and $400 for Gordon Head. This is something curious, and some new vagary of Anderson's for the division is only on paper and a waste of paper at that. If the government had put it in the estimates, to the trio to do as they deem best according to their own sweet wills, it would have been simple and straightforward, and would have avoided much bamboozling. We can't complain with the appropriation given to the district the last three years, but between the trunk road and the road boss, the smashing and repairing of the crusher, and what is gone up in smoke, the money has been frittered away and the district proper has had to wait until a more convenient time. Then Mr. Anderson, as a matter of course, had to have little things made presentable in front of his dwelling; but no one demurs to this. Formerly it was a kind of a duck's puddle and an eyesore to passers by, but underdraining, levelling off and filling up has given a different aspect to the view, and more in line with an M.P.'s residence; but beyond this Mr. Anderson has undertaken to build a road around Elk lake according to his own sweet will but not with his own sweet money, but out of the district's appropriation. We all know where this road begins, but none appear to know where it ends. Some one christened it the Heal and Anderson road; others said it was made to visit Pa. Gravelling roads in the middle of October is something new. A couple of wheelbarrows to the load will tax the strength of a good team at such an unseasonable time, as gravel pits are always somewhat in the bush. Nevertheless there are some advantages with it. If this work was done in July where would the superintendent's salary and expenses be? Besides this will silence the oft-repeated remark that all that this portion of the district got for the last three years is brought here in the pockets of the boss. One of the officials was asked how was it they left this work to be done so late in the season. The party was told it was because the year ended in June. I will leave the solution of this answer to the readers. If it was the lack of funds, the government could fall back on the old tactics—the bye election tactics—pay interest on the money and put it in the public accounts as arrears.

Staveley Hill, Q. C., M. P., and Mrs. Hill returned yesterday from a trip of several days to Cowichan Lake.

E. V. Bodwell returned from Vancouver last evening, whither he had been at the funeral of his respected father.

T. R. Smith, assistant commissioner of the H. B. Company, returned from a flying trip to the terminal city last evening.

Aaron Lewis is still an intense sufferer from rheumatism in the arm in St. Joseph's hospital, and his friends deeply sympathize with him.

Col. J. Hamilton Lewis, of Seattle, combined business with pleasure on his recent trip here. His mission comprised certain sealing matters.

Arthur C. Caldwell, pupil of Dr. Verrinder, is attending a course of lectures at the Baltimore Dental College, which, by the way, is the oldest dental college in the world.

The Rev. D. H. Reid, of Sooke, Cal., son of the Rev. Dr. Reid of this city, sailed on Tuesday last from New York per steamer Wisconsin, for Liverpool. Mr. Reid intends to spend six months in Edinburgh to attend special lectures at the University there. After his return he will, D. V., resume his pastoral duties in the church at Sooke.

J. A. McDonald, of the C. P. railway office, Kamloops, and who is sometimes addressed by his familiars as "Sir John," is now in the city on his annual leave of absence. Mr. McDonald expresses himself as much surprised with the progress Victoria is making. It was his impression, it seems, that progress was an exclusively Vancouver product. Being a C. P. man, he is, of course, excusable for this one-sided view. Victoria, we can assure him, will "get there" if she is only given time.

MR. DEWDNEY.

"Mr. DEWDNEY and his accusers," editorially considered by the Empire, while luminous enough in respect to "his accusers," is not, as affecting the gentleman himself, a first class certificate of character. The Empire does not dwell lovingly and lingeringly on the virtues of the Minister of the Interior, but asks us to believe that insomuch as Sir JOHN is an excellent judge of men, Mr. DEWDNEY as a natural sequence must be a "daisy." Sir JOHN's ability to "size men up" goes without saying. It would be presumptuous indeed to set Sir JOHN down as unable to estimate character in all its phases. The question arises, however, does the "old chief," as Mr. DEWDNEY affectionately calls him, in selecting his political family, always exercise this ability. We are of opinion that he does not in the sense that the Empire would have us understand it. Sir JOHN, in selecting Mr. DEWDNEY for the responsible office he now occupies, must have suspended the function of character reading attributed to him by the Empire, or, if not, then he chose Mr. DEWDNEY more on account of his negative than positive virtues. Most stupid men are correspondingly obstinate, a condition which unfits them for cabinet officers, while a wise man is equally objectionable as he may entertain notions to which his chief cannot subscribe. If, however, that man can be found who combines low grade of mediocrity with pliability, we have the sine qua non of a cabinet officer, and it is owing to these virtues, we opine, that Mr. DEWDNEY now scintillates as a minister of state. That Mr. DEWDNEY is dull without the attribute of obstinacy is best exemplified in his own confessions. He frankly declared that he was not permitted to talk, and thus we have by implication that Sir JOHN holds to the doctrine that cabinet ministers, like the small boy, are to be seen and not be heard. We entertain no doubts as to Mr. DEWDNEY's ability as an executive officer. When Sir JOHN, like the Centurion of old, tells Mr. DEWDNEY to do this and do that, Mr DEWDNEY responds with the alacrity of a man who is neither opinionated nor obstinate, and whose general object is to hold his job. If Mr. DEWDNEY is a man of penetration and judgment, such is not discernible except to microscopic gaze. During his recent visit to Victoria, muzzled as he confessed himself to be, he nevertheless in opposition to the consensus of opinion of shrewd men, rebuked Victoria for its failure to develop into a manufacturing city by the employment of Chinese labor. It is now everywhere admitted that the Chinese are a blight. Even admitting that white labor may successfully compete against them, it is conceded on all sides that they are not a desirable addition to the country, either in a social or political sense. They crowd out the very elements which constitute a prosperous civilization This is the concensus of opinion as respecting the Chinese, and yet Mr. DEWDNEY, in defiance of the popular idea, ventures to take opposite grounds. Now, the man who holds that Chinese labor conduces to true prosperity, either does not know what he is talking about, or else he is the willing tool of selfish men Since Mr. DEWDNEY, prior to his appointment to the cabinet, in no wise distinguished himself as the possessor of brains, and since as a cabinet officer he ventures to oppose his opinion to those of men who have made some noise in the world, we may conclude that he has had greatness thrust on him, and that his special function just now is to extend the Oriental aspects of Victoria.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF ENGINEERS.

Whether it is because Chief Engineer ARTHUR is really a conservative man, or whether owing to the unsatisfactory termination of the "Burlington strike," he has learned caution, is not easy to determine, but this much is certain, his advice to the B. L. E. now in session at Denver is not of the kind to be disregarded. He admonishes the Brotherhood to keep their "personality intact, and not to allow false gods to induce them to subscribe to measures which as soon as passed will make them cognizant of the necessity of repeal." He also laid down the principle that only as a last resort does the Brotherhood "sanction a strike." This, apparently, is a modification of the views ARTHUR held a few months ago at Chicago. Then he went so far as to say that "under no circumstance would he sanction a strike." Such a position as this is untenable. The primary object of labor organizations is to put themselves in a position to strike. A labor organization which disavows striking, removes the very feature which gives it force. Chief ARTHUR, it would seem, has at last grasped the fundamental idea of labor organization, but very properly qualifies with the phrase "last resort." But there is another phase of his address to the Brotherhood which should sink deeply into their hearts, and that is the necessity of saving their earnings, however small. This is a prime necessity to the success of the organization, and particularly when as a "last resort" they go out on a strike. The success of a strike depends wholly on the ability to hold out, and unless there is a cash balance available this is impossible. Strikers must eat, and eating costs money. Judging from indications the disaffected element in the Brotherhood will be squelched, and a policy settled upon, conservative enough to meet the approbation of railway companies, yet at the same time without detriment to the best interests of the organization. Engine driving is an arduous vocation; railway companies are aware of it, and will incline to meet the Brotherhood half way in all demands which are just and reasonable.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

To most people a railroad journey lasting a week is a most trying and tiresome experience, even when made under the most favorable circumstances. What, then, will be the physical and mental condition of the delegates to the American International Congress when they arrive at Washington again after their six weeks' tour by rail through the Eastern and Northern States? Most of them are men well on in years, and unused to northern climates, and few of them probably have had sufficient diplomatic experience to be able to stand a continuous round of late dinners. It is to be feared, therefore, that Mr. BLAINE will have on his hands next month a company of wrecks, anxious to get home again, and in no humor to discuss anything at great length.

Every male Indian in the United States who has been allotted land in severalty is entitled to a vote. Possibly since the Indian has vested rights in this continent the right of suffrage should not be denied him, but it looks in this case as if the object were in the interest of politicians rather than the public. It is not every white man who can exercise the prerogative of suffrage with a discretion that does honor to his common sense. How then should it be possible for the untutored red man to discriminate wisely in his choice of public functionaries. Unquestionably the extension of the franchise to the Indian is unwise. It will be abused, and admitting that female suffrage is a debatable subject, it is unfair to the sex. If the untutored savage may be entrusted with the franchise it should also be extended to women.

The metal of the future, aluminium, is now being made and sold in commercial quantities for four dollars and a half a pound, and it is already being used to some extent as a purifying agent in working iron. It is found that the addition of even so small a proportion of aluminium to iron that is so heavily charged with carbon that it cannot be cast without blow holes being formed in it, has the effect of fixing the free carbon in the form of graphite while the iron is passing from a liquid to a solid stage, and that firm, close grained and homogeneous castings can thus be made from an iron that would be otherwise worthless. Aluminium bronze is also being made to a limited extent, and aluminium itself is replacing all other metals in the manufacture of the finest optical instruments. It may now be taken as certain, that if the cost of producing this wonderful metal is reduced as rapidly during the next twenty-five years as it has been during the last, by the close of that period it will be used more largely than is iron.

Some of the newspapers are talking dismally of the effects of smokeless powder on the morale of the soldier when in action. The fall of each man who is shot down will be clearly seen by his comrades, and since the explosion of this powder does not make much noise the cries and groans of the wounded will be something fearful to listen to. The fact of the matter is the smoke on the field of battle seldom becomes so thick as to hide the presence of the dead and wounded, and it is also well known that the cries of the wounded on the field is a mere figure of speech. Not many years ago men hacked at each other at arms' length, without serious detriment to their courage, and it is not at all likely that when the motive is sufficient the silent action of smokeless power will prevent them the less from displaying the usual amount of nerve. The chances are that the armies who use smokeless powder will suffer more from the stench of it than anything else. The smell of it is said to be perfectly sickening. What a sight it would be to see an army going to battle with their noses done up in sponges that they should not inhale in full volume the unutterable stench of this recent agent of death.

AN OFFICIAL CRITICISED.

Gold Comr. Trunstall's Report for Similkameen Division for 1888.

Allow me space in your columns to criticize the above report. Personally, as collector of revenue for said district during 1888, I am affected by the misrepresentation of facts, and publicly every taxpayer and voter should be interested in knowing whether reports issuing from men who occupy such positions and draw large salaries are reliable, prepared, as they should be, without coloring, from reliable data. So far as I am familiar with such officers the compiling of such a report at the end of the year and the drawing of their salaries pretty nearly circumscribe their duties. When such a report is made at haphazard and from street reports, as I will show the one under discussion to have been made in the interests not of the public but of designers and office seekers, can the unsatisfactory state of affairs now existing at Granite Creek be wondered at?

Mr. Tunstall commences his report thus: "On Granite Creek some of the bench claims have averaged from $5 to $10 per day to the man, whilst others have paid about wages. Operations on the bed of the creek have been carried on in the majority of instances by Chinese, in ground abandoned by the whites, with fluctuating success. Collin's Gulch has kept a small number of men employed who have done well. Slate Creek has yielded satisfactory returns to a limited number of miners. Boulder Creek is gradually being worked out by the Chinese, by whom, with a few exceptions, it has been exclusively worked. The pay on this creek has ranged from $2 to $4 per day."

In the statistics the number of bench claims is given as five. I find only one of them, the Saw Mill Company, paid $10 per day, and that only for two months. The others are as follows: Mainland, Eagle, Gladstone and Pogue. Here are the statements supplied me by the different companies:

Mainland—1514 days work. Value of gold dust, $4,007.31; average per day to the man, $2.64 cents. T. P. Cook, secretary.

Eagle Co.—873 days work. Value of gold, $1,270.43; average per day to man, $3.41. C. Debarrow, foreman.

Gladstone Co.—924 days work. Value of gold, $2,689; average per day, $2.02. P. H. Synon, foreman.

Pogue Co.—"I hereby certify that our mine did not pay more than $3 per day (either bench or channel) during the working season of 1888. T. H. Murphey, foreman."

All of these claims had been in operation a year or more previous to 1888, so that no time was expended in opening them. It is very unfortunate that they did not pay from $5 to $10 per day, but facts are facts.

Not one Chinese company, to my knowledge, working abandoned ground in Gracite Creek, worked to the close of the season, nor did they work the claims referred to out. Now, as to the amount of gold taken out of Granite Creek:

Saw Mill Company		$2,200.00
Mainland	"	4,007.31
Eagle	"	1,270.43
Gladstone	"	2,689.83
Pogue	"	2,500 (estimated)
Kelley	"	1,800.00 (" 2 men)
Pearse	"	1,800.00 (" 2½ m)
Normand	"	2,C.100 (" 1 men)
Other Companies		1,C 100 (probably)
Total		$20,967.36

The three last companies were working in the bed of the creek; two of them in ground formerly imperfectly worked. Number of white men given as 43; number of Chinese, 32. Here is a question in proportion destined perhaps to supersede the poser. If a hen and a half in a day and a half lay an egg and a half, etc." If 43 white men working principally bench claims make, $20967.36 in the season, how much will 32 Chinese working abandoned creek ground make in the same time? We will estimate it at the high figure of $8000, making a total of $28,967.36. Turning to the statistics, I find Granite Creek output estimated at $69,000.

Collins Gulch:—Was the gold commissioner aware that not one white man found employment there? If he can inform the public how much Chinese make he can do more than any man of my acquaintance. When I visited that creek in October I found but five Chinese, and they, judging from their quarters and outfits, were among the poorest I had visited in my experience of three years.

Slate Creek:—Statistics give 10 men; yield $2500. Very unsatisfactory returns, I should say, considering the physical disadvantages under which miners there labor, and the little that has been done by the government in building trails to overcome these obstructions. Of these, however, the gold commissioner is not constituted to know.

Boulder Creek—Of the six or seven white men who worked there only two made grub. If the Chinese had ground which paid $4 to the man, it was ground purchased from white men for a small amount. But the gold commissioner may know more about this ground than I do. If I am correctly informed he once held an interest in a company there and rendered a decision, as gold commissioner, favorable to the company.

But, I fear my letter is getting too long. Just a word or two as I read over his learned disquisition on quartz. Evidently he has talked with the expert. There are many of them travelling the district. There has not been sufficient work done to determine any of the ledges. It is to be hoped they may prove as represented. But to show the value of the report, I will state that though the gold commissioner was stationed over four years in the district and drew about $9,C.. salary, he never visited any of these bonanzas. For his information I will say that the O'Donnell ledge is "east" not "west" of the Bonanza Queen.

In a future communication I purpose dealing with expenditure connected with the administration of justice (so called) with public acts of government agents that require ventilation, and with the woeful ignorance or wanton carelessness displayed by the government in the management of public affairs in Similkameen district. Respectfully, —A. IRWIN.

REQUISITION

To THOMAS EARLE, Esq.

DEAR SIR:

As E. CROW BAKER, Esq., M. P., has resigned his seat in the Dominion House of Commons, we, the undersigned electors of Victoria City and District, beg you to allow yourself to be placed in nomination as a candidate for the vacant seat.

We do this because we feel that at the present time it is imperative that Victoria should have the best men that can possibly be got to look after her interests; and as your business capacity, your large interests here, and your general fitness for the position, are so well known to us, we hereby pledge you our hearty support if an election is necessary.

CIVIC PARLIAMENT.

The Members of the Board of Aldermen Meet for Business.

The regular weekly meeting of the board of aldermen was held at the city hall last night. Present: His Worship, Mayor Grant in the chair, and Aldermen Coughlan, McKillican, Goodacre, Wilson, Vigelius, Harrison, Kelley and Harris.

Routine business having been completed, Clerk Dowler read the following

COMMUNICATIONS:

From S. J. Pitts and Wm. Wilson, in reference to the strip of land along Pandora street north, and adjacent to the Royal Hospital property, stating that they will donate the land provided the city will open the street.

A petition from owners of property on the north side of the street was also read offering to donate twenty feet provided the city graded and kept open the street. Both communications were received and spread on the minutes, and the propositions accepted.

From Willis Bond, acknowledging receipt of letters in reference to completion of contract. Referred to street committee and city surveyor, with power to act.

From W. H. Mason, calling attention to the need of a culvert on Yonge street. Referred to street committee with power to act.

From H. Waller, asking permission to make sewerage connections. Referred to sanitary committee and city surveyor with power to act.

From John Woods, making a similar request, was also acted on the same way.

A FRUITFUL TOPIC.

From Sam. Clay, in reference to the nuisance caused by laying the Johnson street sewer, and giving some very valuable hints as to the proper construction.

Ald. Vigelius thought the letter should be handed to the contractor, as it would perhaps be valuable to that gentleman.

Ald. Wilson thought the writer should not kick, as it was only Clay that was troubling him.

The board smiled.

Ald. Coughlan thought it would be better to file the letter, as the board was quite able to look after its own business.

Ald. Kelly was sure that there was something wrong, and the contract must have been made out very loosely if the contractor was to be allowed to open up three cross streets at once.

On being put to the vote, the matter was referred to the city surveyor, who is to report as to the conditions of the contract.

Ald. Harrison spoke on the bad state of street as left by the contractor.

A MUCH VEXED QUESTION.

From Eberts & Taylor in reference to appointment of an arbitrator in the case of the city vs. McTavish.

Ald. Harrison was of the opinion it would be best to "Let her rip."

Ald. Vigelius—Let her go, Gallagher.

After a half hour's discussion, Ald. Wilson asked what motion was before the board.

Mayor Grant said he had heard "Let her rip."

The board smiled.

A lengthy discussion ensued, in which matters pertaining to the past history of the American continent were expatiated on at length, when it was ultimately decided to refer the matter to the legal advisers of the city for the completion of arrangements.

Several applications for sewerage connections were referred to the city surveyor and sanitary committee.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Notice was given by Ald. Vigelius that the district telegraph by-law would be brought up next Wednesday.

DECORATIONS.

Ald. McKillican moved that $2,500 be set aside for the purpose of paying for the decorations in honor of Lord Stanley's visit.

Ald. Goodacre seconded the motion.

Ald. Harrison said, that while he was loyal, he thought it a waste to spend so much money belonging to the city when the streets needed repairing. He believed that private subscription would have raised the cash.

Ald. Vigelius endorsed Ald. Harrison's remarks to the letter. He drew attention to the fact that in the past contributions had paid for such decorations, and he thought it better to have the citizens subscribe.

The mayor explained that an effort had been made to raise the money, and the first gentleman that was asked to subscribe said that unless the corporation paid for the reception it would not be a reception of the citizens; this idea seemed to be the one entertained by all who were applied to. All thought the city should foot the bills.

Ald. Coughlan thought it would be unwise at this season of the year to spend $2500, when the whole business might be upset by the wet. He would amend the motion by substituting $100 instead of $2500.

The board were a unit in the idea that four arches were far too many, and that one would be enough, although Ald. Harrison said that he would be willing to vote for the $2500 provided the money was spent in actual decorations and not in a banquet and ball for the display of swallow-tail coats.

Ald. Coughlan thought if the vote of the citizens was taken, no such expenditure would be allowed.

Ald. McKillican said the capital city should not be third rate in a welcome to the vice-regal party.

Ald. Kelly thought the provincial government should meet half the expense. If the board voted the money the ratepayers would growl until the aldermen could not rest.

On motion it was decided to set aside a sum not exceeding $1500 for the purpose of receiving His Excellency.

His Worship said it was a pity that the city could not make as good a showing as Vancouver or New Westminster.

TENDERS.

Tenders were opened for the construction of the fence on the school reserve.

As no checks accompanied the tenders a discussion followed as to the advisability of accepting the tenders, and on vote the matter was referred to a special committee to accept the lowest tender.

Ald. Wilson asked what the total cost of the work would be.

This was followed by an answer from Ald. McKillican that the amount would not be over $900.

REPORTS.

The finance committee reported that the Pandora street matter had been amicably settled, and recommending that the street be opened. Report adopted.

The street committee also recommended several street improvements. Report adopted.

The police committee reported that they considered the city barristers should act in the matter re the thief Walsh and the money left with the late superintendent of police.

Ald. Vigelius didn't consider the city responsible for the actions of its late superintendent, who should be prosecuted by the parties most interested.

On motion the report was referred to the city barristers.

The drainage committee reported that it would be advisable to make it compulsory to residents along the sewer line to make connection therewith; also that Mr. Hill be informed that the by-law for raising funds for sewerage purposes would be dealt with as soon as the school tax question was settled; also that Mr. Stelly be allowed to make connection with the sewer. Report adopted.

GRADING PANDORA STREET.

On motion of Ald. Goodacre, tenders are to be called for the grading and gravelling of Pandora street at its northern end.

LACK OF WORKMEN.

Ald. Coughlan pointed out that the work in the hands of the sidewalk building firms was too much to be completed by them with dispatch. He also thought the work should be done by contract.

Ald. Harrison coincided on the contract being a, but said that the work in hand should be hurried up and and would soon be complete.

WANTED.

Ald. McKillican asked that Belcher street and View street be gravelled as soon as possible.

BONUS TO PAPER MILL.

The letter asking for a bonus, not being yet dealt with, His Worship pointed out the need of immediate action as it would improve the city greatly.

On motion, a special meeting was called for Friday night to discuss the subject.

PROTEST.

His Worship also mentioned that a protest had been received from Mrs. Archibald in regard to the land it was proposed to make a street of near the school reserve. Said land was claimed by Mrs. Archibald.

The meeting then adjourned at ten o'clock.

A CONSERVATIVE HEARD FROM.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

DEAR SIR,—Anyone whose mind is capable of its God-given purpose of thinking, will heartily agree with your clear-headed view of this awful Chinese question: Yes, awful, look at it which way we will.

The suicidal and criminal policy of employing and encouraging so-called cheap Chinese labor in this fair Canada of ours, this glorious heritage bequeathed us by our Saxon and Celtic ancestors, after bloody and deadly wars and years of toil and hardship, to be in turn handed on to our children, undefiled by the presence of a race whom they would not, should not, and could not assimilate with, has had a parallel in the Southern States, and must by the unswerving natural laws have a parallel result. The narrow-minded and greedy slave dealers, the rich men who were procuring (with the consent of the church too) cheap labor in those days, are solely responsible for the terrible injustice to the Africans, for the civil war, costing untold treasure and the lives of half a million of brave white men, the majority of them poor and perfectly innocent of any complicity in the cruel and unjust slave trade, and for the misery and grief of the entailed widowhood and orphanhood. But the war was only the beginning of the end which is yet afar off. The presence of the negroes is allowed by all the leading papers to be the gravest problem that ever faced the American people. The children of the slave dealers are to-day cursing the memory of their fathers while they are reaping a whirlwind of misery, a harvest of tears and blood and horror such as no pen can adequately describe. The writer has conversed with Americans who had sold out their homes and were seeking a retreat for their families where they would be among those of their own race, where they would be safe from the former degrading and dangerous surroundings, and where their families would be secure from the possibility of a fate worse than any death, a fate too horrible to contemplate, and where is it all to end? One writer has just issued a book, entitled "An Appeal to Pharaoh," in which he calmly and ably discusses the only solution, viz., shipping the African race to their own country. But what a stupendous undertaking—over 8,000,000 of colored people in the States who are increasing, one statician says, about eleven per cent. faster than the white people, immigration and all. This idea of deportation may seem chimerical, but something must be done in the interest of both races. What will it be? And what shall Canada do when the leprous Chinese get a good foothold? China would not miss out of her 400,000,000 enough to overrun both Canada and the States. The latter has put forth an effort to save herself; so has Australia, and yet in the face of this the British government, at the instigation of some merchants of Hongkong, must ask Canadians to give up their birthright to such a people as the Chinese, and to retire from the west as they are now doing from the French in the east. Surely the comparison of the rich man and the camel in the Bible seems to have a fearful significance.

But the evil effect of this Chinese presence on our people now, to-day, is a more serious matter than it may seem to a casual observer. They not only displace our working girls, and thus drive many of them in despair to a life of shame, but they keep many young men out of employment who wander away and to many cases drift into vagrancy or worse, and just so many young women are without their natural protectors, without husbands, without homes. I think if some of British Columbia's fair daughters could see the expression of disgust and disappointment on the faces of young men from the other parts of Canada where Chinese are not known, when they learn that a Chinaman does the housekeeping in their homes, washes the clothing and comes in daily contact with them, they would pause and remonstrate with their parents, lest the saying now common in California, "a man is a fool who marries a California woman," becomes applicable to them also.

And yet we hear from the mistaken philanthropists and religious zealots—the poor Chinese, we must do something for them! Not a word about the poor white people, their own flesh and blood, who are suffering this injustice in their own country. I would say just here, without fear of contradiction, that for every Chinese convert, or rather pretended convert, they make, they antagonize 4 or 5 of their own people. But we must hope for a change, while we work for it at the ballot box. Canadians are not going to be behind Australians in looking out for their interests, and the British government must of necessity let her colonies please and protect themselves in all such matters or else lose them as she has the States, and as the order of Foresters lost their hold on their American brethren. The trouble is not the unreasonableness of the British people, it is their ignorance of these questions they have no practical knowledge of them whatever, only what they read from the pens of mawkish sentimentalists who generally have an axe to grind and whose knowledge of such matters must of necessity be very superficial.

Self preservation, the first law of nature, holds as good for the community or the nation as it does for the individual, and any who fail to obey its promptings must step down and out.

Shall we then with this splendid country, with its healthy climate, our population of British descent, our stalwart, intelligent, honest and brave young men and young women, who beat the world for health, good looks, purity, energy and everything that goes to make a desirable and loveable woman, shall we sit with our finger in our mouth till it gets to be worth while taking it out? Or shall we see to it at the polls that our voice shall be heard, our grievances redressed, and our influence felt for good in the land.

Public Meeting.

An advertisement is another column calls a public meeting, for the discussion of important questions, at Philharmonic hall, on Friday evening, chair to be taken by Ald. Wilson. We are not advised as to the object of the meeting, further than by the intimation in the announcement referred to; but we suppose the wish of the promoters is to secure discussion and to enlist public interest in questions of vital importance to the city and province.

Fire Kindlers.

The dangerous kerosene oil, when used as a fire lighter, has been the direct cause of many horrible deaths and much destruction of valuable property. An invention to obviate this danger, and at the same time to provide a ready and efficient fire starter has been found in Thompson's patent fire kindlers, and a factory for making them has now been started at 67 Yates street. It was reported to Chief Deasy that the manufacture of explosive articles was being carried on there, and in company with a TIMES reporter, a visit was made to the place this morning when it was proved to the satisfaction of the chief that the ingredients of the article were not explosive, and while inflammable in a stove or grate, are not liable to accidental ignition. The lighters are done in tissue paper in neat packages, one of which will start a fire readily; they are cheap, a year's supply being obtained for $2. The chief considers their use advisable, as thereby the deadly coal oil will be done away with, and the bother of lighting the morning fire reduced to a minimum. Mr. Thompson will be ready to exhibit the utility of his invention to anyone who favors him with a call at the above address.

Art Notice.

Porcelain portraits of all sizes enlarged from photos. Have your orders left with George Bigger, 86 Government street. Eight different kinds of work of art.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The Ferry.

The Islander left Vancouver for Victoria at 2:00 to-day.

Will Meet.

The journeymen bricklayers and stonemasons of the city are asked to meet at the American hotel on Saturday evening.

The Social Season.

The winter festivities will be formally inaugurated by a grand ball and reception at Government House on the evening of November 4th, for which Mrs. Nelson has issued 300 invitations.

Legal Notes.

It is announced that F. G. Walker has purchased the legal practice of W. Norman Bole.

Mr. E. M. N. Wood has succeeded to the practice of Mr. Spinks, appointed County Court Judge at Kamloops.

In Command.

Mr. A. F. Bisteen, well known as the first officer of the Olympian, has been promoted to the command of the steamer Emma Hayward, which runs on the Olympia-Seattle route. Mr. J. Gillow has Mr. Steteon's vacant place.

Alaska Salmon.

The steamer George W. Elder brought down from Alaska 25,000 cases of salmon, or about eighty car loads. About one-fourth of the cargo was unloaded at Port Townsend for shipment south, and the rest will go east through Tacoma.

Average Number of Passengers.

The volume of travel between Victoria and the Puget Sound cities has been greater this year than at any time in their history. The records show that the average number of passengers carried to Victoria on each trip was 86.

Killing Sheep.

Miscreants have been getting in their nefarious work on DeCourcey island, near Nanaimo, and last week shot several sheep and an old pet ewe belonging to W. M. Flewitt. The animals were shot by a rifle, the bullets passing clean through the bodies. Mr. Flewett has placed the matter in the hands of the authorities and in addition offers a reward of $50 for the conviction of the offenders.

Expected Daily.

Mr. Hooper, the architect deputed by the Pandora Street Methodist congregation to visit the east with the object of forming ideas and collecting data for the congregation's new church to be erected here, was expected back several days ago and his advent is now daily watched for. A church larger than the present one is much needed, for on Sunday night last fully 200 people were unable to gain seats and reluctantly went away.

Good Boys.

The recently organized hose team in James Bay is a source of benefit to the members as well as a protection against fire. The team is twenty-two strong, and the young men are on duty till 11 o'clock each night and have amusements to while away the time. Thus do they cultivate good and abstemious habits. They are very alert, as has been seen on occasions of recent fires. The boys will turn out for the vice-regal reception.

Tenders Accepted.

Mr. Chas. Hayward's tender for the construction of an arch at the corner of Yates and Government streets, has been accepted; he will also decorate the streets from the Hudson Bay Co.'s wharf to a point up Fort street near the residence of J. Heywood, Esq. A grand stand or platform is also to be erected corner Yates and Government streets, and the whole work will be pushed to rapid completion by the contractor.

Remission of Sentences.

Sections 14, 15 and 16, of an act respecting gaols and reformatories, went into effect at the provincial gaol, Topaz avenue, yesterday. These sections refer to the sentencing of prisoners, remission of a portion of the sentence, and forfeiture of such remission. By the remission of sentence is meant that a prisoner for good conduct can earn five days in a month. Thus a year's sentence can be reduced to ten months. The prisoners have all been notified of the fact.

Campbell-Toop.

At Chilliwhack yesterday morning, Mr. E. J. Campbell, the popular teacher of that place, and Miss Toop were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. F. Hall performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell arrived in the city last evening and are registered at the Oriental. They are receiving the congratulations of friends to-day and their best wishes for future happiness and prosperity, all of which reminds the noble army of bachelors that their ranks are daily growing thinner.

Mr. Crimp's Resignation.

The bungling policy of the provincial government has been exemplified in its conduct towards Mr. Crimp, late gold commissioner of Cassiar. The real cause of Mr. Crimp's resignation was a reduction in his salary from $1800 to $1200. After faithfully fulfilling the duties of his position for many years, this is his reward. A likely successor spoken of is Thos. Harvey, a thoroughly incompetent person for the billet. Mr. Crimp will arrive in the city on the Corona, due in a few days.

Fire Protection.

Chief Deasy had a talk yesterday with Manager Howe concerning the better protection of the Victoria Theatre in the case of fire. Mr. Howe signified his willingness to adopt several suggestions of the chief, one of which was to station an usher at each exit, so that in the event of a fire every door could be thrown open at once, thus reducing the possibility of a fire to a minimum. The fire hydrants and hose are also to be put in first class condition, and every precaution taken to be able to cope with danger should it arise.

Nearly Crushed.

What might have been a serious accident was happily averted this morning on the wharf by an Indian's agility. A number of heavy iron gas mains, now being unloaded from the bark Norcross, slipped from their moorings on the wharf and started down the incline. There was much noise at the time made by unloading and the movements of trucks, but the Indian who was in the path of the rolling mains managed to hear a shout just in time to save himself from being flattened out. The shave was much closer than what it looks in print.

Fireworks Galore.

See Kim, an enterprising resident of Cormorant street, has about completed arrangements for a grand pyrotechnical exhibition to be given in the Caledonian grounds next Wednesday evening. The fireworks include some of the most wonderful devices ever seen even in China—the home of the firecracker and its more interesting brother—and the display will, without doubt, be one of the finest ever seen on the coast, and certainly far superior to the best ever before seen in this city. If possible a first-class band of music will be secured for the evening, when, if the weather permits, the spectacle will doubtless attract a big crowd.

Spratt's Ark.

The steam scow, Spratt's Ark, came into port yesterday, says the Port Townsend Leader, and tied up at Tyler street wharf. She has on 190 tons of fine building granite, brought from a point about twenty-five miles above Burrard Inlet, in British Columbia. This scow was built by Joseph Spratt several years ago, to be used as a floating cannery. It was fitted out with all the latest appliances for that business, fine machinery, etc., and cost him about $40,000. After running one season she was placed under certain restrictions of shipping and commercial laws of Canada, which made her too expensive for the use intended, and she was sold at a great loss. She is a splendid craft for such a business as she is now engaged in.

SYNOD OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Business Transacted at Yesterday Afternoon's Session.

The synod of this diocese met yesterday, October 23rd, when business of importance was transacted.

All the clergy of the diocese answered to the roll call, and a strong representative body of the laity testified to the interest which is taken throughout the diocese in the deliberations of this body.

Divine service was held in the Cathedral at 10 a. m., at which an eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. A. Beanlands, B. A. The Holy Eucharist was celebrated by the Lord Bishop, assisted by the Ven. Archdeacon of Vancouver and Revs. J. B. Good and A. Beanlands. Immediately after service the clergy and lay delegates assembled for business in the cathedral school, and the Lord Bishop presiding opened the Synod with the appointed office.

Among those present were:

CLERGY.—The Lord Bishop, Ven. Archdeacon Scriven, M. A., Rev. J. X. Willemar, Rev. J. B. Good, Rev. Arthur Beanlands, B. A., Rev. J. A. Leakey, M. A., Rev W. W. Bolton, M. A., Rev. W. H. Gregory, Rev. C. J. Brenton, Rev. Fred L. Stephenson.

LAY DELEGATES.—Hon. Mr. Justice Crease, H. A. King, Esq., W. C. Ward, Esq., R. E. Jackson, Esq., W. H. Lomas, Esq., Wm. Charles, Esq., E. S. Wilkinson, Esq., H. E. Crossdaile, Esq., George Thomas, Esq., J. Downey, Esq.

Foremost among the agenda was the acceptance of a grant tendered by the society for the promotion of Christian knowledge of £1000 to meet the £4000 raised in the diocese as a Clergy Endowment Fund. This fund, which guarantees the payment or part payment of the stipends of the clergy in rural districts, has been raised mainly by the exertions of Bishop Hills, who during the ten months of his sojourn (?) in England addressed 108 congregations on its behalf, and raised some $10,000 towards it. In grateful recognition of this fact it was resolved by the synod that the fund should be styled "The Bishop Hills Clergy Endowment Fund."

Much technical work was transacted for the due apportionment of the interest accruing from this sum throughout the diocese. Resolutions were passed dealing with questions raised and debated at the late Lambeth conference, notably the raising of the public standard of morality and temperance, and the due observance of Sunday.

Spheres of new work for the Anglican church were allotted in Alberni, Wellington, Sooke, and the islands off the coast.

Delegates were appointed to represent the church at the conference to be held in Winnipeg next year, to arrange for the formation of a national synod of the Anglican church in Canada, with a view to closer communion of the various dioceses throughout the Dominion.

New members were elected for the executive committee of the synod, and the bill incorporating that body which was passed through the local legislature last session, was read and explained to the members.

Taken as a whole no session has been more satisfactorily conducted, or more fraught with good results to the English church in this province. It was gratifying to the members of the synod to see their genial and kindly bishop presiding with renewed energy and spirits at their council, and the harmonious character of the proceedings, and the profitable results of the meeting was greatly due to his skilful and judicious presidency.

A vote of thanks to the president brought the meeting to a close.

Royal Hospital Donations.

Steward Garland of the Royal Hospital acknowledges with thanks the following donations: Mr. and Mrs. Chudley, a large quantity of fruit; from the Rocabella, a parcel of clothing.

Another Needed.

There is every prospect that another vessel will be needed to take the salmon catch away, as the Dochra will not be able to handle it all. It is said that after she is loaded there will still be enough to load a medium sized ship and one may be chartered.

Brutal Clem Austin.

The police would like to interview Mr. Clem Austin, the so called pugilist, and find out whether it is not considered low enough to live off an unfortunate woman without abusing her for trivial causes. This is a state of affairs that Supt. Sheppard will not tolerate, and he means to bring this class of offenders to justice as soon as he can lay hands on any of them. Austin has been missing for two days and is supposed to have gone to Vancouver. As he has figured in the police court twice of late, a third term might go hard against him.

Herrmann.

The Victoria was crowded from pit to gallery last night, when the great prestidigitateur, Herrmann, made his first appearance in many years in this city. The performance was equal to the expectations of the audience, which had been raised to a high pitch by the highly eulogistic notices which have appeared in the newspapers for the past week. The tricks were surprisingly marvellous. Had Herrmann lived a few hundred years ago, he would probably have been cremated at the stake for his supposed alliance with the powers of darkness. He is certainly a master conjurer, and fully deserved the immense audience which he mystified so completely. A criticism of such a performance is simply out of the question. It requires to be seen to be understood, or the cleverness and adroitness of the magician properly appreciated. To-night there will be a full change of programme—new tricks and new scenes.

Silver Wedding.

On the 24th of October, 1864, twenty-five years ago to-day, Mr. Wm. Jensen and Miss Margaret Borthwick were united in marriage in the city of Liverpool. The then young couple are now the popular host and hostess of the Occidental hotel, who have for the past quarter of a century travelled the path of life together. To-day being the twenty-fifth anniversary of the happy day, the silver wedding was celebrated. Although not generally known, a few intimate friends were aware of the day, and several very valuable presents were presented to both Mr. and Mrs. Jensen, Mr. Jensen being the recipient of a fine diamond ring, while Mrs. J. was presented with a silver fruit dish, cake basket, silver-mounted stand of gold fish, napkin rings, etc. A neat little dinner was partaken of at the hotel, and the health of the celebrants was drunk with hopes that they may continue in happy wedded life for twenty-five more years to come.

The China Steamers.

A reporter of the Vancouver World interviewed Mr. J. A. Fullerton, manager of the C. P. R. steamship line, respecting the report published in THE TIMES concerning the new orders issued by the company and which some thought might mean that the trans-Pacific steamers were to be temporarily withdrawn. Mr. Fullerton, after reading over the item, said that as yet no advices had been received by him from Fairfield, Scotland, whence the order would come, and none was anticipated. He looked upon the statement as being purely a street rumor. The rumor in fact had reached him on the street, but he had not received any official notice on the subject and consequently did not put any faith in it.

Subsequently the scribe called at Mr. D. E. Brown's office, but found that that gentleman is away. It was learned, however, that the rumor evidently started from the fact that the company's schedule runs out on the 29th of November, and it has not been decided whether the business will at present warrant a continuous winter fortnightly service. The report evidently started through some officious individual talking in the streets of matters concerning which he had no particulars.

Real Estate.

Mr. Frank Richards sold a lot on Broad street next to Denny's to-day for $6000, an advance of 50 per cent over the price for which it was bought last spring.

Thirst for Knowledge.

The public library continues to be appreciated in a manner which was never expected and the loans are often very large. In one day recently 100 books were given out.

Fashionable Dress and Mantle Making.

Miss McIntosh, late of Minneapolis, has opened dressmaking parlors on the S. W. corner of Yates and Broad streets, immediately over Hampson & Terry's cash dry goods establishment, where she will be pleased to meet the ladies of Victoria requiring her services. 1w

New Mains.

The Victoria gas company intends to extend its service in various directions. For this purpose two miles of new iron mains have arrived from England, ex the bark Norcross, and will be put underground as soon as possible. It is understood a vigorous policy will be inaugurated as an offset to the inroads of the electric light.

Resumes Charge.

Rev. D. Macrae having returned from the east, resumes his charge of Victoria and Esquimalt districts and will conduct the usual services at Sooke and Metchosin next Sabbath, and on the following Sabbath at Cedar Hill, Craigflower and Esquimalt at the usual hours of service. Mr. Knowles, who has been in charge during Mr. Macrae's absence, left this morning for Winnipeg to resume his studies at the Manitoba College.

To Inspect the Fish.

That well known salmon packer, Ben. Young, will most likely take a trip to England the early part of next winter in the interests of the salmon shippers. The buyers find that the market has fallen and they are anxious to seize on every possible chance for complaint to get even, and reports of blown tins, soiled labels and rusty cans will be in order. Mr. Young intends to be on hand as the cargoes are turned out and will thus be able to judge just how much reliance is to be placed on the purchasers complaints.

Bank of B. C. Extension.

The Bank of British Columbia is noted for its vigorous policy, and the latest instance is shown on Puget Sound where, as already announced, it will open a branch as soon as the territory puts on its mantle of statehood. The branch will be under the management of Mr. Low, who has already secured quarters for it. The management has long had an eye on Tacoma as an inviting field, but has been prohibited from doing business by a United States law, which prohibits a foreign corporation from doing a banking business in a territory.

Marine Gossip.

The steamer Rithet went to the Fraser canneries for salmon this morning.

The schooner Pathfinder is to be thoroughly overhauled and put to rights.

The bark Tythonus, loading salmon for London, will clear in about ten days.

The incoming steamers last night brought heavy freights, a lot of tramway material being among that of the Islander.

The Dochra has but about twenty tons of freight for the navy yard, and will come around to this port to-morrow morning.

The American tug S. L. Mastick has been sold by Capt. D. Gilmore to Mr. W. Hammond, of Port Townsend, for $16,000. The Mastick has probably cost during the last twelve years $150,000.

A slight fire was started on the steamer Premier in the straits the other day by the upsetting of a can of lard on to a red hot stove. It was promptly put out without a general alarm.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
